The Nigerian Safety and Investigation Bureau (NSIB) has said that it has commenced investigation into the XJET Aircraft overrun of runway at the Lagos Airport last weekend.

In a release dated May 12, 2024, signed by Mrs Bimbo

Olusunmi Olojede, Director, Public Affairs and Consumer Protection, Nigerian Safety Investigation Bureau, made available to our correspondent. NSIB said that the Nigerian Safety Investigation Bureau's (NSIB) inquiry into the runway overrun incident involving Xalet Airline's Embraer 145 aircraft is ongoing.

The report said that preliminary fact-finding revealed that the incident occurred at 1:00 pm on Saturday, May 11, 2024, at the domestic wing of the Murtala Muhammed Air-

NCAA says will not bow to blackmail Pressure

BY BONNY AMADI

The Nigerian Civil Aviation Authority (NCAA) has emphasized that irrespective of messages of blackmail aimed at making the Authority to give in to some requests, the body is fortified to move on with its developmental initiatives, devoid of any form of distraction.

The assurance is contained in a release titled "NCAA RESISTS BLACKMAILERS" signed by Michael Achimugu, Director, Consumer Protection & Public Affairs and obtained by our correspondent. Which made it clear that the Authority and its Director-General, Capt. Chris Najo-mo will not bow to blackmail or threats of any nature.

The statement read "Sequel to the recent false, vexa-

NNPC E&P Ltd, NOSL hit first oil in OML 13, Akwa Ibom

The Nigerian National Petroleum Company Exploration and Production Limited (NNPC E&P Ltd.) and Natural Oilfield Services Ltd. (NOSL) have announced the successful commencement of oil production at Oil Mining Lease (OML) 13 in Akwa Ibom State.

The NNPC E&P Ltd. is NNPC Ltd's flagship upstream subsidiary, while NOSL is a subsidiary of Sterling Oil Exploration &

Energy Production Company Ltd (SEPPCO).
Olufemi Soneye, Chief Corporate Communications Officer, NNPC Ltd.,

made this known in a statement obtained by our correspondent.

Mr Soneye said the production, which commenced on 6 May with 6,000 barrels of oil, would ramp up to 40,000 barrels per day by 27 May 2024.

"The first oil flow from OML 13 is a historic milestone in the partnership between NNPC E&P Ltd and NOSL."

"It highlights their dedication to driving growth and development in Nigeria's

Rivers Governor, Fubara to probe Nyesom Wike's Eight-Year Admin

Rivers State Governor Siminalayi Fubara has announced a plan by his administration to set up a panel to probe the governance of the state in the last eight years under his predecessor and "godfather" Nyesom Wike, who is now a serving minister.

Governor Fubara stated this on Monday after swearing in Dagogo Iboroma as the Attorney General of the state shortly after the Senior Advocate of Nigeria (SAN) was screened and confirmed by the Victor Oko-Jumbo-led House of Assembly.

Speaking, Fubara

charged Iboroma to quickly set up the panel of enquiry to look into the activities of the state government in the last 8 years.

He emphatically stated that the state was in a critical situation where it had become obvious that the political crisis could not be resolved.

The governor accused his opponents of deliberately sabotaging his administration while he was hoping that the issue in the state would be resolved amicably.

He vowed to make

Obi holds closed door meeting with Atiku, Lamido in Abuja

The 2023 presidential candidate of the Labour Party (LP), Peter Obi, on Monday held a closed door meeting separately with the presidential candidate of the Peoples Democratic Party (PDP), Alhaji Atiku Abubakar and the former governor of Jigawa State, Alhaji Sule Lamido at their Abuja homes.

Obi was said to have arrived at Atiku's house before visiting Lamido over what is yet to be known as at the time of filing this report.

Although, sources disclosed that the private meetings may not be unconnected with the build up to 2027 general elections.

Meanwhile, political observers opined that Obi may be warning his way back to the PDP since it was the party he ran as running mate to Atiku in 2019.

They argued that the crisis in LP may have made Obi think of returning to his previous political party which he dumped in May 2022.

It would be recalled that Obi dumped the PDP in 2022 before its presidential primaries when he claimed that the party did not give room for 'constructive contributions'. Also, recently in a podcast, the Media Adviser to Atiku, Paul Ibe, disclosed that the former governor of Rivers State and Minister of FCT, Nyesom Wike was responsible for the defection of Obi to LP, adding that in 2023

Atiku was ready to drop his presidential ambition if the PDP could have micro-zoned the party's ticket to the South East.

truck at the AML bonded terminal, Abule-Osun, near the International Trade Fair complex before heading to a large warehouse at Abule-Osu where NDLEA officers eventually arrested the suspects and recovered the opioid consignments on Thursday 9th May 2024.

Those arrested include the warehouse agent, Cosmos Obiajulu, 51; Ridwan Balogun, 25, and Banjo Tayo, 30, both drivers of two of the trucks while the third driver jumped off to escape arrest.

In the same vein, NDLEA operatives on Tuesday 7th May arrested a suspect, Nwanuko Ejike in Coker area of Lagos where 100 litres of codeine syrup were recovered from him while 60 litres of the same substance were seized from Clinton Akinye in the same area some day. Not less than 37.5kg of cannabis sativa loaded in a Toyota carry car was recovered from another suspect, Adedigbo Segun, 47, when the car was intercepted at Mile 12 area of Lagos on Monday 6th May.

Another consignment of opioids consisting of 59,106 pills of tramadol and different quantities of codeine syrup and rohypnol being taken across the border to Ghana, Cameroon was intercepted by NDLEA officers on Monday 6th May along Mubi-Yola road, Adamawa state. Two suspects linked to the drugs: Abubakar Auwal, 39, and Adamu Abubakar, 25, (aka Bamanga), a trans-border trafficker who was to take the consignment from Mubi across to Cameroon were promptly arrested.

In Edo state, NDLEA operatives on Saturday 11th May raided the Iguiye forest in Ovia North East LGA, where a total of 11, 636.183kg cannabis was destroyed on three farms measuring 4.654474 hectares, while additional 188kg of the same psychoactive substance was recovered and a suspect, Iyah Nyong was arrested during the overnight operation.

A 75-year-old grandpa, Jibril Audu was on Friday 10th May arrested with 7.5 kilograms of cannabis at Oke-asa village, Ijero-Ekiti, Ekiti state during a raid operation, while a 70-year-old grandma, Titovase Nytor was nabbed with 5.6kg of same substance on Saturday 9th May during a raid operation at Achusa and International Market road, Makurdi, Benue state.

The NDLEA Commands across the country balanced their drug supply reduction operations with War Against Drug Abuse, WADA, advocacy campaigns to schools, markets, worship centres and communities. Some of these include: WADA sensitisation lecture to Muslim faithful at Sultan Bello Jummat Mosque, Kaduna; students of Oduduwa University and Oduduwa Polytechnic, Ipetu-modu, Osun; students of Nigerian Tulip International Colleges (Boys Section), Kano; students of Federal University of Technology, Babura, Jigawa; students of Father Tansi International College, Opongbo Awka, Anambra; WADA advocacy visit to Delta state First Lady Deaconess Tobore Oborewori and similar advocacy visit to the Founder City of God cathedral, Cardinal James Omolajai Odunmuyi who was joined by Ojumu LCDA Chairman, Hon. Segun Odunmbaku in Ojodu area of Lagos state.

While commending the efforts of the Lagos, Edo, Ekiti, Benue and Adamawa Commands of the Agency for jobs well done in the past week, Chairman/Chief Executive Officer of NDLEA, Brig. Gen. Mohamed Buba Marwa (Retd) assured that officers and members of the Agency will continue to work with local government partners to ensure that the scourge of substance abuse and illicit drug trafficking is brought to the barest minimum in Nigeria.

Aviation Minister Receives Air France-KLM Team

• Advises On Offering Low-Priced Tickets Fares to Nigerians

The Honourable Minister of Aviation and Aerospace Development, Festus Keyamo SAN CON FCIarh (UK) recently received in audience the team leading global airline, France-KLM who paid him a courtesy visit.

Led by Country Manager, Christine Quantin, Key Account Manager, Commercial Division, Antonia Kenosa Umunna and Deputy Station Manager, Damilola Ogunseye, the delegation expressed gratitude for the Minister's support and discussed several key initiatives aimed at elevating aviation services in Nigeria.

A statement signed by Tunde Moshodu, SA Media and Communications to the Honourable Minister of Aviation and Aerospace Development, made available to our correspondent disclosed that during the meeting, Air France-KLM expressed appreciation for the improved facilities at the Murtala Muhammed International Airport, particularly acknowledging the enhanced experience at wing E. They also extended gratitude for the Minister's leadership in fostering a smoother relationship between their team and various aviation regulatory agencies.

Highlighting their commitment to innovation and service excellence, Air France-KLM announced the launch of their new Airbus A330-300 aircraft, emphasizing their dedication to deploying modern and improved aircraft services on routes within Nigeria. This initiative aligns with their overarching goal of providing Nigerian travelers with a superior journey experience.

Moreover, Air France-KLM commended the Minister for his intervention and successful facilitation of fund repatriation, showcasing the effectiveness of collaborative efforts in overcoming challenges within the aviation sector.

Aviation Minister, Kano Deputy Governor Tour Kano Airport ahead of 2024 Hajj

The Honourable Minister of Aviation and Aerospace Development, Festus Keyamo SAN CON FCIarh (UK), led a delegation today to the Mallam Aminu Kano International Airport (MAKIA) for a comprehensive inspection of recently installed facilities aimed at enhancing the experience of pilgrims embarking on the 2024 Hajj pilgrimage.

Accompanied by esteemed officials including the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Aviation, Dr. Emmanuel Meriboke, the Managing Director of the Federal Airports Authority of Nigeria (FAAN), Olubunmi Kuku, and some FAAN's top flight directors, the Minister assessed the readiness of the airport to cater to the needs of pilgrims during this sacred journey.

Also on the Minister's entourage is the distinguished Senator representing Kano South Senatorial District, Abdulrahman Kawo Samuila aka Kawo and other dignitaries.

Before the facility inspection, the Minister paid a courtesy visit to the Kano State governor, Abba Kadir Yusuf, who was represented by his deputy, Comrade Aminu Abdulmalik Gwarzo. During the meeting, the Aviation Minister expressed his fondness for Kano, stating that "Kano is always home for me," a sentiment warmly received and applauded by all present.

Addressing the state government, the Minister outlined three critical requests aimed at enhancing the efficiency and functionality of MAKIA. Firstly, he urged the state government to facilitate the installation of a dedicated powerline at the airport to address persistent issues of low power outage, particularly affecting the air-conditioning system.

Secondly, he appealed for the state's support in acquiring two additional generating plants to supplement electricity supply at the airport, ensuring uninter-

Meanwhile, the NCAA stated that it sought the notice of legal action that has been served on the publisher of Daily Nigerian and his reporter, the Authority will not hesitate to take legal action against blackmailers whose demands for money to "defend" a victim of defamation or have them face "negative public embarrassment" is not only "not tolerable".

"The NCAA remains committed to ensuring that safety and economic regulations are strictly adhered to. We have serious work to do and we must acknowledge and appreciate the commitment of President Bola Ahmed Tinubu and the Honourable Minister of Aviation and Aerospace Development, Festus Keyamo SAN, to improving the aviation sector as the centerpiece of Nigeria's economic growth. The NCAA is grateful for the support of its staffers and unions who recently expressed a vote of confidence in the Capt. Najomo-led management."

For the avoidance of any doubt, in response, the agency nor Capt. Chris Najomo will be distracted by falsehood and blackmail" it further assured.

"The Authority and its Director-General, Capt. Chris Najomo is by this statement, making it clear that it will not bow to blackmail or threats of any nature. We are not unaware of the elements behind these spurious attempts designed to aid the bid of certain power-seekers and we will respond robustly to any further attempts to cause chaos in our agency."

The NCAA, however, acknowledged the genuine Civil Society Organisations who have written to seek clarification about the issues raised. "We will continue to be transparent about their concerns and we stand by our response via the press conference held on 29/04/2024 that no purchases of such tickets has been made and so, no procurement rules have been abused."

Addressing the state government, the Minister outlined three critical requests aimed at enhancing the efficiency and functionality of MAKIA. Firstly, he urged the state government to facilitate the installation of a dedicated powerline at the airport to address persistent issues of low power outage, particularly affecting the air-conditioning system.

Secondly, he appealed for the state's support in acquiring two additional generating plants to supplement electricity supply at the airport, ensuring uninterrupted operations for pilgrims and travelers alike.

Lastly, the Minister brought attention to properties belonging to Skypower that have been under dispute, seeking the state government's intervention to resolve the matter amicably.

Heritage Bank Headquarters shut down by Labour Union

Business activities at the headquarters of Heritage Bank on Victoria Island, Lagos, have been disrupted by officials of the National Union of Banks, Insurance and Financial Institutions Employees (NUBIFE).

The group stressed the head office of the financial institution to shut it down over the decision of the bank's management to lay off about 1,000 employees.

Organised Labour and the Heritage Bank Plc are in a fresh battle over perceived wrongful sack of workers without benefits.

Last October, it was between the Association of Senior Staff of Banks, Insurance and Financial Institutions, ASSBIFI and Heritage Bank Plc, over a non-procedural sack of members.

This time around it is between the National Union of Banks, Insurance and Financial Institutions Employees, NUBIFE, Heritage Bank over alleged wrongful disengagement and refusal to settle severance benefits of about 1000 exited workers.

In fact, leaders of NUBIFE and other members last week laid siege to the Victoria Island Headquarters of the bank demanding justice for the affected workers. They chanted solidarity songs, and expressed dissatisfaction over the sack of about 1,000 workers of the bank.

Some placards displayed during the picketing of the bank's head office read, "CRN calls Heritage Bank to order", "N90,000 benefits for 15 years service is dehumanizing", "Banking is not slavery, stop dehumanising workers", "Stop your anti-union policy".

They demanded that the affected workers be well compensated.

Addressing the picketers' President of NUBIFE, Anthony Abalaka said despite the union's efforts to seek justice for the workers through negotiation and dialogue, the bank terminated their employment without following due process and failed to provide documentation of paid severance benefits.

Abalaka emphasized that these employees had dedicated years of service to the bank, ranging from 14 to 18 years, and criticized the bank for leaving them without any compensation, calling it "exploitation and injustice of the worst order." The bank paid a stipend of N90,000 for a worker that has served them for more than 5 years. This is a criminal act and we cannot take it any longer. We will continue with these activities until our demand is met."

The General Secretary of the union, Sheikh Mohammed on his part, said the picketing was based on the wrongful retrenchment of workers without following due process by the management.

He said the bank refused to settle severance benefits of the sacked members of the NUBIFE after disengaging them.

"We shall not hesitate to deploy all its networks and contacts to mobilise affiliate trade unions and Nigerian workers towards protecting the rights and privileges of our members in this institution," he said.

Abalaka said the National Resources of the bank, Mother Dan Eguo said all the severance benefits and pension of the affected workers have been paid through the Service Providers.

Nigerian Customs Officer Shoots Self Dead In Abuja Residence

Nigerian Customs Service (NCS) officer serving in the Federal Capital Territory, identified as Abdulwahab Magaji has reportedly committed suicide in Abuja.

It was gathered that the deceased shot himself with a pump-action rifle at his residence located at Binta Street, Farm Estate area, Abuja.

It was also said that Magaji's family filed a report with the police about his untimely death, forcing policemen to storm the scene of the incident.

According to a family source, when policemen arrived at the site, the victim was transported to a hospital and pronounced dead.

The source said, "A family of the deceased had raised the alarm that CSC Abdulahi Abdulwahab Magaji, a customs officer serving in Abuja, shot himself in his house farm Centre with a pump-action rifle."

"Police officers dashed to the scene of the incident and took the victim to the hospital, where he was certified dead by the doctor on duty."

The source added that the body of the deceased had been handed over to the family for burial, and returned to Islamic rites.

Customs National Public Relations Officer, Abdulhali Maivada, could not be reached for comments at the time of filing this report.

The police authorities in FCT have also not yet issued any official statement on the incident.

Speaking about Magaji's demise, a friend named Lawan Al-Amin Mohammed, described him as a pillar of strength, source of comfort and guiding light during his lifetime.

Mohammed paid tribute to the late Magaji for his outstanding character and great integrity, adding that he lived a life of purpose.

He wrote, "But beyond his infectious laughter and boundless optimism, Abdul possessed a rare depth of character and integrity that set him apart. He lived his life with purpose and passion, guided by principles of honesty, compassion and empathy."

"He was more than just a friend; Abdul was a brother, a pillar of strength, a source of comfort and a guiding light in times of darkness. His unwavering support and unconditional love lifted me up when I stumbled, reminding me that I was never alone in my struggles. In his absence, I'm left with a profound sense of loss, a void that can never be filled."

But as we mourn his passing, let us also celebrate the extraordinary life he lived and the countless lives he touched along the way.

Abdul's spirit will live on in the memories we hold dear and the lives he forever changed. Let us honour his legacy by embracing the values he held dear and striving to live our lives with the same grace, dignity, and compassion."

The act of the uniformed man killing himself has become rampant which might not be connected to depression.

In a similar report, SaharaReporters had reported how a Deputy Commissioner of Police serving with the Force Criminal and Investigation Department, Agegbon, Lagos State, Gbolahan Oyejemi also committed suicide in his private house in his hometown, Ojo, Oyo State.

Oyejemi was the Aide de Camp to the late former Governor of the state, Adeniyi Alake, during his 11-month tenure as defacto governor in 2006.

NCS Signs MoU with China Customs to boost Trade

Customs CG, Adeniyi and the Vice Minister of the General Administration of Customs of the People's Republic of China, Wang Lingjun during the visit.

The Nigeria Customs Service (NCS) has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the General Administration of Customs of the People's Republic of China (GACC) to foster bilateral relationship for the enhancement of economic growth.

As a follow up, the Comptroller-General of Customs (CGC) Adevala Adeniyi on Wednesday last week led some of his management team in Shenzhen, where he highlighted the significance of knotting bilateral affiliation with China, which, according to him, will boost the two countries' import-export operations and favour the businesses of MSMEs in Nigeria.

The CGC appreciated the Vice Minister of the General Administration of Customs of the People's Republic of China, Wang Lingjun, for showing interest in signing MoU with the NCS. He also applauded the recent exponential rise in the development of e-commerce, adding,

"We know a lot of Nigerian companies and SMEs take advantage of the opportunities added through e-commerce."

CGC Adeniyi expressed optimism that the NCS-GACC Memorandum of Understanding will serve as a critical component of cooperative security and trade relationship between the two nation's Customs agencies, reiterating that "The relationship will create a co-operative mechanism for NCS and the GACC to collaborate on supply chain security standards and enhance the economic stability of both nations."

"These are some of the many reasons why Nigeria Customs Service pays attention to what is happening in China. As you have said, China is making the biggest trade in Nigeria, and the basic context of International Trade is 'your export is our import'. I appreciate the numbers that you gain in Nigeria. But it is also common knowledge that those numbers sometimes must take account of the large volume of informal trade that exists between us." CGC Adeniyi said.

approximately 326 meters at the threshold of Runway 30R. The captain subsequently shut down the engines and commanded an evacuation through a controlled disembarkation. Three exit doors were used for the evacuation process, including two over-wing windows and one forward exit door. There were no reported injuries or fatalities as a result of the incident. However, damage was sustained to the aircraft's nose landing gear and both main landing gear tyres. NSIB was notified of the incident by the Nigerian Airspace Management Agency (NAMA) at 1:20 PM, and a Go Team was promptly deployed to the incident site, arriving at 1:51 PM.

"NSIB's investigation into this incident is ongoing," stated Captain Akoladeh, Director General of the Nigerian Safety Investigation Bureau. "Our focus is determining the factors that led to the runway overrun."

"Our investigators have interviewed the captain, senior first officer, and purser. Toxicology tests were also conducted on the crew to check for any impairing substances. All tests

Oyo Government Arrests Two Chinese Nationals, 30 Others For Illegal Mining Activities

Thirty-two illegal miners, including two Chinese nationals, have been arrested at Sooro market in Kishi, the Irep Local Government Area of Oyo State.

The state Director-General of Operation Burst, Col James Oladipo Ajibola (ret'd.) announced the arrest shortly after a critical security stakeholders' meeting held at the Deputy Governor's Office, Agodi in Ibadan, the state capital.

The state Deputy Governor, Bayo Lawal had, during a clear-ance operation against the illegal miners at the market, on Sunday, ordered its closure and immediate evacuation of all illegal structures and shanties built across the market and the precious stones.

Ajibola explained that the collaborative efforts of traditional leaders and the joint security task force enabled the instant restoration of peace and order in the area.

He said, "About 32 illegal miners, including two Chinese miners, were arrested at the Kishi-Sooro market and are currently undergoing investigation at the moment."

Earlier, the State Government had announced the closure of the market over the activities of illegal miners in the market.

The Executive Assistant to State Governor, Seyi Makinde on Security, CP Sunday Odukoja (ret'd.) who addressed newsmen warned that the government would not hesitate to pounce on any individual involved in illegal mining activities in the state.

Odukoja cautioned indigenes against colluding with illegal miners as the government was ready to deal decisively with erring people.

"We just had an intensive meeting on security over the illegal mining happening in Oke-Ogun, especially in Sooro in Irep Local Government. The government has taken its position which means that everybody has to stand up to their responsibility to ensure adequate peace in the region.

"The Kabiesi, Iba of Kishi, Oba

Mashoud Lawal has promised to make sure the area is free of hoodlums and that all the criminalities within his area will definitely come to an end.

"The government will not relent in ensuring that the area remains peaceful and the market remains closed until further directive is given by the State Governor, Seyi Makinde," he added.

NiMet, FRC to Collaborate In Promoting Sustainability Practices

Nigerian Meteorological Agency (NiMet), Officials and the Financial Reporting Council (FRC) of Nigeria, have met to discuss areas of partnership towards improving sustainability practices by corporate organizations in Nigeria.

During a courtesy visit on the Executive Secretary and Chief Executive Officer of FRC in Abuja, Dr. Rabiu Olowo, on Monday, 13th May, 2024, the Director General, Chief Executive Officer of NiMet, Professor Charles Anosike said; "Climate change is fast becoming a priority for financial regulators. The work we do at NiMet through our weather and climate reports are the foundation for sustainability practices. This partnership will enable NiMet and FRC to jointly develop capacity."

While welcoming the NiMet team, Dr. Olowo said; "There are opportunities for alignment between NiMet and FRC in fulfilling the core mandates of the two agencies, especially in the areas of sustainability reporting, climate risks and opportunities. Although we are championing sustainability reporting, FRC is also promoting sustainable practices among Nigerian organizations."

Some directors and senior staff of the two agencies were present during the courtesy visit.

APC Party Pegs Local Council Forms For N25Million Ahead Of Ebonyi Elections

Ahead of the local government election in Ebonyi State, the All Nigeria Progressives Congress (APC) has announced that its expression of interest form is N5 million while nomination form is N25 million.

The party made this known in a statement issued by its Ebonyi State Chairman, Stanley Okoro Emegha and Secretary, Charles Chukwuoma Ofoke.

This comes as the Ebonyi State Independent Electoral Commission (IESIEC) fixed July 20, 2024 for the conduct of the local government election across the 13 local government areas in the state.

The APC set up a five-member zoning committee after its stakeholders meeting held on Sunday.

According to the party, Senator Obinna Ogbia, former senator who represented Ebonyi Central Senatorial District will serve as chairman of the committee while Austin Umahi, Minister of Works, former Governor Deuse Umahi's brother is the secretary of the committee.

Also in the committee are; Sunday Inyima, Prince Aita Uka Ude and Mrs Nora Oluchi Afo.

The statement noted that "Consequently, they (committee members) are informed that their work starts immediately. They are given three days from 13th May, 2024 to conclude the assignment and submit their report to the party on Friday, 17 May, 2024."

According to the APC, the expression of interest form for councillorship is N50,000 while the nomination form is N150,000.

The statement added that the party has made the expression of interest forms free for female aspirants and male aspirants who are below 39 years, adding that the male aspirants are to present evidence of age declaration from any court of law.

Police Confirm Gunmen Attack On Edo Community, Burning Of Several Houses, Cars

The Nigerian police have confirmed that gunmen attacked the Edo community, burning several houses and cars.

The hoodlums reportedly attacked Inarogha Community in the Ovia South West Local Government Area of Edo State, burning no fewer than eight vehicles.

The gunmen carried out the attack on Sunday night in the community located near Okomu oil palm plantation, according to the News Agency of Nigeria.

According to the report, the hoodlums also razed down some houses during the attack in the community, formerly known as AT&P.

The Edo State Commissioner of Police, Mr Funso Adegboye, who confirmed the attack, said the command was holding a meeting with sister security agencies to address the situation.

"We are aware of the incident and have visited the community.

"We are already holding talks in partnership with sister security organisations and the Okomu oil palm company to avert the situation," he said.

Quoting an eyewitness, the report noted that the invaders entered the community from the Riverside at midnight shooting sporadically into the air and setting fire to about eight private vehicles and destroying many houses.

Mr Rex Alpokinovo, one of the community leaders, who spoke to the agency claimed one person was killed, while the Chief of the community, Pa Gabriel Okotogbe, sustained injuries but noted that he was not hospitalized.

"The corpse of the dead person was taken away by the police.

"My house was attacked and my car burnt down by the gunmen who came into the community at midnight and started shooting sporadically into the air.

"One of the Okomu workers, who resides in the community, was killed while the invaders left a warning note on his chest," he said.

According to the note, addressed to Governor Godwin Obaseki, the attackers, who identified themselves as Jaw Freedom Fighters, made several demands from management of Okomu Oil Palm Plc.

Tribunal reserves judgement on Kogi governor Ododo's election

The Social Democratic Party (SDP) and its candidate, Murtala Ajaka, filed the petition against the election of Governor Usman Ododo.

The Kogi State Governorship Election Petition Tribunal sitting in Abuja, on Monday, concluded the hearing of the petition filed by the Social Democratic Party (SDP) and its governorship candidate, Murtala Ajaka, to challenge the victory of Governor Usman Ododo, who was declared the winner of the loathly contested November 2023 poll.

INEC on Monday urged the three-member tribunal to affirm Governor Ododo's victory.

Governor Ododo and his party, the All Progressives Congress (APC), also told the three-member panel, headed by Ado Birnin-Kudu, to dismiss the petition for being inconclusive and lacking in merit.

The trio, through their lawyers – Karu Agabi, Joseph Daudu and Emmanuel Usaka – stated this position while adopting their final written addresses and presenting their arguments against the SDP and Mr Ajaka's petition.

However, Mr Ajaka's lawyer, Pius Akubo, urged the tribunal to discontinue the respondents' submissions and uphold their petition.

The tribunal, after listening to all the parties in the petition, reserved the matter for judgement.

It would be recalled that Mr Ajaka challenged Mr Ododo's victory in the 11 November 2023 poll.

In the petition, INEC, Mr Ododo and APC are listed as first, second and third respondents respectively.

The tribunal had, on 25 April, fixed Monday for adoption of final written addresses after parties closed their case in the matter.

Upon resumed hearing, INEC's counsel, Mr Agabi, told the court that their final written address was dated and filed on 2 May.

He said the commission's reply on point of law was dated 8 May and filed 9 May.

While adopting the processes, the lawyer submitted that the petition lacked merit and was incompetent, urging the court to strike it out or dismiss it.

"It is our humble submission that your work in the determination of this petition is simplified in recent judgements by the Court of Appeal and Supreme Court," he said.

He argued that the Appeal Court had decided that if the grounds of a petition are inconsistent with one another, and are not consistent with the reliefs, it should be struck out.

He also argued that the evidence of the petitioners were grossly insufficient, citing a Supreme Court decision in their case by Tonye Cole against INEC.

"It is to be noted that once the evidence called is grossly insufficient, there is no evidence.

"In that case, the petitioner filed 305 witness depositions but only adopted 40 of them.

"The petitioner, according to the decision, only adopted about 13.1 per cent of the witness depositions.

"In this case, the depositions adopted represent just about 3.6 per cent of their witness depositions," he said.

He said the petitioners only called 25 witnesses out of the scores listed.

Mr Agabi said that in a mathematical calculation of evidence, 3.6 per cent of Mr Ajaka's witness deposition adopted in the petition amounted to a failure and, therefore, ought to be dismissed.

The lawyer also described the case as "trivoltus".

He said the petitioners equated the failure of the witness deposition beforehand in contravention of the Supreme Court's decision in Obungado's case.

Seplat Energy $1.9m Net Loss in Q1 rattles investors as share price dips

BONNY AMADI

CRROSS section of investors in Seplat Energy Plc have expressed concern as the company expressed weakness in earnings, which reflected in $1.9million loss in the first quarter (Q1) ended March 31, 2024.

Seplat Energy's $1.9 million loss recorded in the first quarter of 2024 was attributable to large deferred tax, which impaired its bottomline, as investors' spontaneous reaction has so far led to about a 3 per cent dip in its stock price.

The company's share price which trended upbeat at N3370 per share as at April 22, fell to N3291.4 per on April 30, 2024.

Details from the company's unaudited financial statement for the period Seplat's profit before taxation (PBT) declined by 19.5 per cent on year on year (y/y) to $69.3 million at the end of the first quarter (Q1) of financial year 2024 compared to $86.1 million period in the comparable period in 2023.

Conversely, as a result of the substantial deferred tax charge in the period, the company reported a net loss of $1.9 million as opposed to a net profit of $57.5 million recorded in the comparable period of 2023.

The company said profit attributable to equity holders of the parent firm, representing shareholders, closed the accounting period at $1.0 million, which resulted in basic earnings per share of $0.002/share for the period compared to $0.10/share in the comparable period in 2023.

Noteworthy, revenue fell by about 46 per cent year on year to $179.8 million from $331 million in Q1-2023. Management explained that the crude oil price was steady year over year in the period.

It noted that Brent averaged $81.76 per barrel, representing a decrease of just 0.4% when compared to $82.06/bbl at the end of Q1-2023 though the picture during the quarter was one of steadily increasing oil prices, as geopolitical tensions rose in the Middle East region.

While Brent was stable, the Company achieved a 4.7% growth in average realised crude oil price to $86.17/bbl in 3M -2024, from $82.32/bbl in 3M 2023, according to its result.

Seplat said the greater than usual premium to Brent achieved in the quarter was due to timing, as liftings were biased to the end of the quarter when prices were higher.

Despite this, the company said crude oil revenue declined 49.4% to $150.8 million in 3M 2024, from $297.9 million in 3M 2023.

It explained that the year on year decline in reported crude oil revenue was attributed to the timing of lifts, exacerbated by the overflow reported in 3M 2023.

Total crude oil lifted during the period declined $1.1% to 1.8 MMbbls versus 3.6 MMbbls in the comparable period in 2023.

"Our lifting activities are expected to normalise in subsequent quarters", the company said in an official statement.

In the period, gas revenue fell by 12.4% to $29.0 million compared to $33.1 million in 3M 2023, according to details from its unaudited financial statement.

The decline in gas revenue was attributed to lower gas volumes produced during the period, due principally to delays in new gas wells coming on stream.

Seplat said these are now expected onstream in Q2 2024. In the first three months, its crude oil production fell 10.8% to 10.0 Bscf in 3M 2024, from 11.2 Bscf in 3M 2023.

The decline was offset by the average realised gas price, which rose by 8.0% to $3.11/Mscf in 3M-2024, from $2.88/Mscf in 3M 2023. Management said the average realised gas price improvement reflects the impact of higher gas price negotiated with off-takers taking effect in the period.

Overall, Oil and Gas sales for 3M 2024 fell 45.7% to $179.8 million, from $331.0 million in 3M 2023, negatively impacted its earnings performance.

Direct operating costs, which encompass expenses related to crude-handling charges (CHC), barging/trucking, operations and maintenance, amounted to $42.8 million in 3M 2024, marking a 5.4% decrease from the $45.3 million incurred in 3M 2023.

The company attributed the decline to the lower operational and maintenance expenses in the period despite higher produced liquid volumes in 3M 2024.

Its operating profit decreased by 21.0% to $81.9 million, from $103.7 million achieved in 3M 2023. Its income tax expense of $71.2 million includes a current tax charge of $13.9 million and a deferred tax charge of $57.3 million.

The significant increase in deferred tax charge for the quarter was due to both the sizable under lift position and unrealised FX gains recorded during the period, resulting in an effective tax rate of 102.8% (3M 2023: 33.2%).

Roger Brown, Chief Executive Officer, commenting on the result, said, "Seplat Energy continued its trend of strong operational performance in the first quarter. Oil production on OMLs 4, 38, 40 and 41

Market Pullback Sees Reversal with N149bn Profits

THE NGX equity market on Tuesday, witnessed a notable uptick, with the All-Share Index soaring by 0.35% to reach 98,225.63 points, bolstering the year-to-date return to an impressive 31.36%. Notably, stocks like CAP, LEARNAFRICA, NAHCO, and UACN surged by an impressive 10.00% each.

This surge in performance led to a favorable landscape, with the Exchange boasting more gainers (28) than losers (18), showcasing investor confidence. Consequently, the market capitalization of listed equities experienced a significant upswing, leaping by N149 billion to settle at a robust N55.55 trillion.

The day's trading activity painted a picture of enthusiasm, with total deals, volume, and value surging by 7.30%, 99.18%, and 193.52%, respectively. This translated to a bustling market, with 9,350 deals, 552.21 million units, and a total value of N14.92 billion exchanging hands.

However, despite the overall positive sentiment, there were pockets of decline, particularly in the Consumer and Industrial Goods indices, which dipped by 0.80% and 0.35%, respectively.

Nonetheless, the Banking, Insurance, and Oil/Gas sectors experienced gains of 1.70%, 0.15%, and 1.07%, respectively, underscoring the market's resilience. GTCO emerged as the day's champion, dominating both volume and value with 245.46 million units worth N7.95 billion traded in 470 deals.

Top gainers LEARNAFRICA emerged as the highest gainer for the day with N0.30 or 10.00 per cent growth in share price, closing the session at N3.30 per share, followed by UACN with 1.35 or 10.00 per cent rise in share price to N14.85 per share, while NAHCO closed trd in the group at N36.30 or share, following N3.30 or 10.00 per cent dip.

CAP appreciated by N2.60 or 10.00 per cent to N28.60 per share, while CONOIL closed the top five gainers group at N99.95 per share, having appreciated by N9.05 or 9.96 per cent.

Worst losers DANGUGAR led the losers group on Tuesday with N4.30 or 9.95 per cent dip in share price, closing the session at N38.90 per share, followed by CWG with N0.55 or 9.85 per cent slash in share price to end the day at N5.05 per share, while VITAFAM closed loser at N17.00 per share, having declined by N1.85 or 9.81 per cent.

HONYFLOUR declined by N0.34 or 9.74 per cent to N3.15 per share, while UPLI closed the worst five losers group at N2.26 per share having weakened by N0.24 or 9.60 per cent.

Top volumes GTCO led the most active stocks group measured by volume with 245,459,806.00 million shares worth N7, 945,658,086.35 billion, followed by FBNH with 45,468,550.00 million shares turnover worth N1, 094,213,949.35 billion, while ACCESSCORP closed trd in the group with 42,872,090.00 million shares worth N727, 956,731.30 million.

TRANSCORP polled 36,077,777.00 million shares worth N 502,348,052.00 million, while UBA closed the top five most active stocks group with turnover of 22,451,746.00 million shares worth N537, 741,391.90 million.

Jubilant as Agama Assumes Office as Acting SEC DG

THE staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission were in great jubilation as newly appointed Director General Dr. Emonotimi Agama assumed office in an Acting capacity pending confirmation by the Senate of the National Assembly.

Agama, who resumed at the Commission's Head office Tuesday and was received by excited members of staff, promised to ensure that the capital market is well regulated and developed in a bid to contribute to the nation's economy.

The Director General told the elated staff, "I have come here today to serve you and the institution by sheer providence, we should work together to meet the yearnings and aspirations of the capital market, let us make this institution better and greater knowing that it is a place that feeds and gives us succor, united we stand, and divided we fall".

According to him, "We are grateful to President Bola Tinubu for finding us worthy of this opportunity and we know that expectations of the market and the country are huge, it is our utmost determination to work together with the staff of the Commission to ensure that we deliver on this assignment".

The Acting DG also commended the staff of the Commission on their commitment to the SEC and assured that the incoming Management will work with the staff union to ensure all lingering staff issues are resolved.

"I have come here as your colleague because without you this institution won't get anywhere. This institution has been built by you, your resilience even in trying times has brought us thus far. All of you have been symbols of hard work".

"It's been a wonderful journey knowing every one of us here. I have had the pleasure of being involved in people's careers here for the last 20 years. We have crossed many rivers, but

NNPC/First E&P JV Empowers NGOs with N53.4m

As part of its Corporate Social Responsibility, NNPC initiated the Nigerian National Petroleum Company Limited (NNPC Ltd) and First Exploration & Production Limited (First E&P) joint venture (JV) has donated the sum of N53 million to non-governmental organizations, NGOs, in Nigeria.

Under the JV's impact First Initiative, the donation, targeted towards enhancing societal welfare, would address areas such as good healthcare and well-being, quality education as well as economic growth within the nation.

Speaking during the cheque presentation ceremony, NNPC Ltd's Chief Upstream Investment Officer, CUJO, NNPC Upstream Investment Management Services, NUIMS, Bala Wuni, expressed gratitude to First E&P for initiating the laudable programme.

Represented by the Deputy Manager, External Relations, NUIMS, Edith Lawson, Wuni highlighted NNPC Ltd's belief in the power of CSR, stressing that the Company remains committed to working with its partners to impact the lives of the less-privileged.

Wuni said under the initiative, projects and programmes executed include the provision of classrooms, ICT Centres, laboratories and other infrastructural intervention projects, scholarships, quiz competitions, skill acquisitions, and economic empowerment, in addition to NNPC's dedication to fostering sustainable development in Nigeria.

Wuni described First E&P's foresight and leadership as commendable, adding that the partner has been instrumental towards meaningful change that will ensure a better future for all Nigerians.

Among the beneficiaries of the donation were the and equally among vulnerable people.

Others were the OISA Foundation, which transforms lives through interventions in the education and healthcare sectors; Cerebral Palsy Center, which renders support to families with children with cerebral palsy as well as the Niola Cancer Care Foundation, which organises awareness talks and screens communities for colon cancer.

INEC announces commencement of continuous voter registration ahead Edo, Ondo polls

The Independent National Electoral Commission (INEC) has unveiled plans to kick-start the Continuous Voter Registration (CVR) exercise in preparation for the forthcoming governorship elections in Edo and Ondo states.

INEC Chairman, Mahmood Yakubu, made the announcement during a crucial meeting with leaders of political parties at the Commission's headquarters in Abuja on Monday.

Yakubu clarified that the CVR exercise in both states aims to facilitate voter registration for eligible citizens who are not yet registered voters.

He outlined the timeline for the CVR in Edo and Ondo States, which is slated to run from Monday,

May 27, 2024, to Wednesday, June 5, 2024, from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm daily, including weekends.

Addressing concerns regarding voter transfers, Yakubu emphasized that registered voters also have the opportunity to transfer their registration from other states or within the two states during the CVR period.

However, he cautioned against multiple registrations, reiterating that the CVR is exclusively for new registrants and those seeking transfers.

"Let me reiterate that the CVR is only open to new registrants and those who seek to transfer their registration. Persons who are registered as voters should not attempt to register again as double or multiple registration is illegal," Yakubu emphasized.

Furthermore, the INEC Chair announced a change in the registration venues, opting for ward-level and state headquarters instead of local government offices and designated centers, considering the proximity to the governorship elections and the need for efficient registration.

The commencement of the CVR exercise signals a critical phase in the electoral process, ensuring broader participation and fostering democratic representation in Edo and Ondo states ahead of the scheduled governorship polls.

DG NITDA Restates Need For Safe, Inclusive Digital Environment

The Director General of the National Information Technology Development Agency (NITDA), Kashifu Inuwa CCIE with the Head of Government Regulation and Public Policy for TikTok Nigeria and West Africa, Mrs Tokunbo Ibrahim during the courtesy visit to the agency's Corporate Headquarters in Abuja.

To forge strategic partnerships and collaboration for the advancement of Nigeria's digital transformation Agenda, the Director General of the National Information Technology Development Agency (NITDA), Kashifu Inuwa CCIE has reiterated the need for a safe and inclusive online environment – responsible for human and Artificial Intelligence (AI) practices in country.

Inuwa made the statement while paying host to a team from TikTok who visited Agency's Corporate Headquarters in Abuja to seek alliance towards bolstering the country, which aligns with President Bola Ahmed Tinubu priority area of strengthening national security for peace and prosperity.

The DG stated that content moderation strategies will help in addressing online problems like hate speech, misinformation, and cyberbullying in relation to the protection of minors across the country.

With the Code of practice for Interactive Computer Service Platforms Internet Intermediaries in place, this has helped in ensuring digital safety in accordance with global best practice and content moderation to enhance security," he said.

He further noted that "no organisation or institution can operate in silos, we need each other for the actualisation of our goals and objectives towards service delivery and for the advancement of the Nation."

Highlighting some critical areas, Inuwa stated that leveraging on the platform will advance the country through Digital Literacy 4 All (DL4ALL), Capacity Building, knowledge sharing, trainings, and curbing misinformation, digital safety with the aim of creating a safer cyber space and empowering online environment for Nigerian users.

He added that the platform "allows for creative expression through filters, stickers, and editing tools, entertainment and comedy are dominant themes, and informational videos on various topics are gaining traction which has become a launchpad for influencers and trends that can go viral."

Inuwa also explained that NITDA's Strategic Roadmap and Action Plan 2.0 (SRAP 2024-2027) is structured around eight pillars which include: Fostering Digital Literacy and Cultivating Talents, Building a Robust Technology Research Ecosystem, Strengthening Policy Implementation and Legal Frameworks, Promoting Inclusive Access to Digital Infrastructure and Services, Enhancing Cybersecurity and Digital Trust, Nurturing an Innovative and Entrepreneurial Ecosystem, Forging Strategic Partnerships and Collaborations, and Cultivating a Vibrant organisational culture with an Agile Workforce.

In her earlier remarks, the Head of Government Regulation and Public Policy TikTok Nigeria and West Africa, Mrs Tokunbo Ibrahim has revealed that NITDA is one of its biggest and critical stakeholders in Nigeria that has an outstanding strides and performance in advancing the digital economy sector.

Ibra him commended NITDA for its various initiatives, programmes, and policies set in place and aligns with that of TikTok, providing the opportunity were Nigerians use the platform to market, sell and export their products and services as well as talents to the outside world and make a living out of it.

She pointed out that there are projects and programmes that TikTok platform has forged ties of collaboration with, like the Africa creator hub where they do campaigns for tech creators, support, empower, and educate them on how to create contents and explore other sections of the platform, changing their narrative and adding values to what they are doing.

NIMASA launches reviewed minimum wage document for Seafarers

Nigerian Maritime Administration and Safety Agency (NIMASA) has launched the reviewed minimum wage document for Nigerian Seafarers, developed in line with the provisions of the Maritime Labour Convention MLC 2006. The document, which is for 2023-2025, is a product of a Collective Bargaining Agreement that involved employers of labour in the maritime sector, the leadership of the Maritime Workers Union of Nigeria, MWUN, NIMASA and other stakeholders in the industry.

Speaking at the event, the Agency's Director General, Dr. Dayo Moberola, stressed the importance of this revised document in enhancing the working conditions of seafarers.

According to him, "Today, we gather to celebrate a significant achievement in our collective efforts to enhance the seafaring industry. I am honoured to present the reviewed minimum standard for the seafaring industry, a landmark document that establishes the benchmark for fair and safe working conditions, decent living wages, and social protection for our seafarers," stated the Director General.

Dr. Moberola also emphasized the need for collaboration and swift action in finalizing the Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) among Ship Owners, Nigerian Travellers Operators, Nigerian Merchant Navy Officers and Water Transport Senior Staff Association (NNMO/WTSSA), and Maritime Workers Union of Nigeria (MWUN) on the renewed minimum standards for the Nigerian seafarers, to prevent payment backlogs and ensure timely compensation for employees. In his words,

"The revised standard provides a comprehensive framework outlining the terms and conditions of employment for maritime workers, including wages, working hours, health and safety regulations, and other benefits.

This reflects the collective expertise and input of stakeholders and our shared commitment to continuous improvement. This effort will contribute to sustaining an equitable and prosperous maritime labour industry."

The Chairman of the National Seafarers Welfare Board, Alhaji Tijani Ramlan who launched the document, emphasized the need to adhere to the provisions of the Maritime Labour Convention (MLC) 2006, stating that it will not only foster industrial harmony, but also guarantee better working conditions for Nigerian Seafarers.

The Drama at EFCC and the challenges with balance of justice

EQUITY and justice are the greatest need of our society. All are presumed to be equal before the law, but it is what it is, a presumption! The reality of our administration of justice has dug a gulf between the rich & the poor, the haves and the have nots, those who belong & those who don't. It is important and germane that our law enforcement agencies are better not blind to this reality! Magu and Olukeyede are testimonies of the need not just to belong to the party in power, but also to be seen as being loyal to members of the kitchen cabinet! Olukeyede learnt fast and struck the cord. No doubt, the zeal for work should be given to the lawyer in him, but his not being a trained investigator, is showing on the job! The Yahaya Bello drama is nothing but a piece of entertainment for Nigerians and the rest of the world. The burden of corruption on us as a nation is not as bad as the absence of equity and justice! It is sad that Donald Trump, the immediate past president of the United States who once again aspires to the highest office in that nation is presently in court to defend himself before the law! But Yahaya Bello, former governor of Kogi State finds it insulting to present himself before the law of Nigeria and answer to charges made by the EFCC against him and we are not losing our sleep! That action or implied action alone is an offence! Global perception on our determination to fight corruption should better be on the positive if we hope to win the discouraged hearts of foreign investors who though seduced by our numerous potentials can't put up with the impunity raping justice in the open. The assignment before EFCC has gone beyond fighting corruption. It must include marketing our nation as a country of law & order. The burden of equity must be attended to, justice must be seen to be served. If Olukeyede's error of investigation is forgiven, that of law shouldn't be, easily! The withdrawal of the appeal against Yahaya Bello is too much of an error for the lawyer who is the chief executive of EFCC! IK Joy-Uzor, one of the many minds with whom mine regularly rubs with to better my concept on the Nigerian Project sent me his thoughts on this matter. Though we haven't met one on one, we have bonded so strongly through our desire for a better and greater Nigeria. On my chat with him on the Drama at EFCC, he had this to say: "We have had over 108 governors from 1999 till date. I use the figure 108 on the assumption that all governors have had two full terms which we know is not the case. Only about 2 of them (Joshua Dariye & Jolly Nyame) have been successfully jailed in Nigeria after EFCC prosecution. Diepirye Alameyeseigha's time in EFCC detention counted towards his conviction and James Ibori was incarcerated abroad. Nyame and Dariye were both pardoned. Messrs Lucky Igbinedion & Orji Uzor Kalu respectively got a wrist smack and a court order for a retrial. My point being that it is impossible for just the aforementioned to be the only former governors that have embezzled. Let's not talk of the brigandage that goes on elsewhere." He continues: "I believe that our politicians and public office holders including administrators should be granted full amnesty. I believe that this 10th NASS should pass a law absolving these categories of people of all offences, including Yahaya Bello. After this is done another law should then be passed stating that henceforth anyone who commits such offences should be punished. This way we can get on with the business of doing serious governance and not this charade we have. We are too concerned -and without results from EFCC which seems to be compromised anyways- by the thefts that have gone on instead of safeguarding our future". Could Yahaya Bello have fallen out of his BAT's kitchen cabinet because of his role in Buhari's? This is a possibility that must be inquired into, not by media hype and propaganda, but via thorough investigation! Once there is money to share, a criminal will have paid activists to speak for him, hungry lawyers, to protest and defend him and the abused and the depressed public, to sympathize with him! The Nigerian public is presently mind sick owing to many years of rape and abuse by leadership! Olukeyede can't afford to be distracted from the fight against corruption to retreat into explaining the fight he is yet to win! Once the battle against corruption is won -though that is an impossibility so what is meant is token victories- he can come explaining the gain and sweetness of victory. The most important thing now is to disabuse the notion that Yahaya Bello is a victim of not belonging to the caucus in control of power. The only way to do that is to publish the names of all former Governors investigated by EFCC from 1999 to date! This of course may have the President listed, but neither Olukeyede nor the President need to be worried. The immunity that kept Yahaya will keep the President! Listing the President on such a list is the only way to answer the question of this Government's credibility and assure the world of our readiness to make a change!

Ifumkpa: C’River community where youths, foreigners connive for illegal mining

BY CHRISTIAN NJORU

Gold mining in Nigeria goes as far back as the ancient Benin and life empires in the pre-colonial era, although, the gold mined during era was not in commercial quantities due to poor capacity to mine.

At present, it is estimated that Nigeria has over 600,000 tonnes of gold deposit, worth over 1.4 billion dollars.

This treasure is scattered in different parts of the nation, especially in the North-West, North-Central, South-West and even South-South region.

According to available data, Nigeria accounts for approximately 0.5 per cent of global gold production with artisanal and small scale producers providing the majority of the gold.

This figure is anticipated to rise in the medium to long term due to the present administration’s push for investment in the industry.

However, as positive as this may look for Nigeria, gold mining has its challenges which are enhanced by poor regulations corruption in the sector, lack of infrastructure, artisanal mining among others.

One of the communities in South-South Nigeria that is blessed with gold in commercial quantity is Ifumkpa in Akamola Local Government Area (LGA) of Cross River. Ifumkpa is one of the communities in Cross River that make up the Cross River National Park.

Blessed with huge mineral deposits such as gold, a large percentage of which is located in the National Park, Ifumkpa has rich arable land and wildlife which is gradually being depleted.

A make-shift tent in the forest erected by illegal miners.

A visit by the News Agency of Nigeria (NAN) to Ifumkpa shows that in spite of huge gold deposit, the community languishes in abject poverty, virtually social amenities, yet it experiences high influx of foreigners and Nigerians from different states to mine for the precious mineral.

One of the miners, Malaam Musa Abdullahi from Kano, told NAN that they were contracted by powerful individuals of the community to mine gold.

He said they have an agreement with their principal on the quantity of gold they are expected to deliver weekly.

“These powerful indigenes get about 10 to 15 boys who are teenagers, those in their 20s and 30s from the north, provide them food and they reach an agreement on the number of kilogram to deliver weekly.”

“Accommodation is not included in the agreement as we sleep in the bushes, near our mining sites.”

“The indigenes of Ifumkpa don’t join us to mine because they don’t know how to do it, we are the ones that know what raw gold looks like and most of us have the spiritual capacity to call gold as we dig,” he said.

Abdullahi said sometimes, they get more than their weekly quota, they settle their principal according to the agreement sell the rest at the Iwuru Tipper Park, close to Ifumkpa for between N60,000 to N70,000 per kilogram.

He said he is ignorant that the mining takes place in the Cross River National Park.

One of the mining sites in the forest in Ifumkpa.

Many youths of the community are now motorcyclists who convey miners said to site. For them, it is a lucrative business as they make between N6, 000 to N8,000 in one trip.

This is in spite of the difficult terrain and health risks associated with the dusty road.

At Ifumkpa NAN gathered that there was a serious rift between community youths and officials of Nigerian Parks Services days earlier.

So, every stranger youths see in their community became a suspect, including this writer.

Mr Cletus Duni, Traditional Head of Ifumkpa said the chiefs of the community were aware of the huge gold deposit in their land, which is mined by strangers, allegedly contracted by the youths of the community.

Duni, who said they had tried once or twice to confront the affected youths, but were “We have reported this matter to the state government and even the conservator of park it is painful that this kind of resource leaves this village on a daily basis and we have nothing to show for it.”

“I have cried to the Minister of Solid Minerals and Mr Okon Owuna, member representing this constituency in the Cross River House of Assembly but nothing has been done.”

“The traditional rulers are scared because if you dare make trouble with the youths, you don’t know what they will do to you, we need security officials to be sent to protect our forests and the park,” he said.

Mr Owuna, Member Representing Akamola 1 in the State House of Assembly said he is aware that foreigners were trooping into Ifumkpa but there was freedom of movement in the nation.

He said there was nothing the state could do as mining was on the Exclusive List which means that only the Federal Government can take actions against illegal miners.

Ifumkpa is a community of about 10,000 inhabitants who are mostly farmers of cassava, plantain, palm oil among other agricultural produce but only comes alive in the dry season.

In the rainy season, it is cut off from the rest of the world as the only access road becomes impassable, a large percentage of the agricultural produce harvested during this period are wasted due to no access road to the markets outside.

Ifumkpa has just one solar powered borehole, donated by a mining firm that was earlier denied access to mine in the community by the Federal Government; it has no electricity, telecommunication network and no state or Federal Government presence.

The only primary, secondary school and primary healthcare centre which all look dilapidated in the community were built by the indigenes themselves after years of waiting for the state government, in spite of sitting on a huge amount of gold deposit.

Confirming the invasion of Cross River National Park by illegal miners, the Conservator of Park, CP Caroline Olori, said the activities of the miners were carried out in collaboration with indigenes especially youths.

Olori said that indigenes who embrace illegal merchant of solid minerals such as gold or timber have remained poorer and insecure while few people feed fat on their common wealth.

“We have arrested many boys who we cannot trace their origin, they only tell you they are from one state or the other in the north and they all live in our forests.”

“In many of these communities with mineral deposits, the indigenous youths are now in charge and the traditional rulers no longer speak for fear of being killed and resources are carted away on a daily basis.”

“Today some youths of these communities fight the National Park for trying to ensure that their resources are not plundered. If these communities remain quiet our forests will be thoroughly depleted with attendant insecurity that may be difficult to handle,” she told NAN.

Miners on a bike from Elgriji Iko junction to the forest in Ifumkpa

“I have heard of the mining activities but I can’t just jump into people’s community and start asking questions because I am recent to understand that mining is on the exclusive list,” he said.

Confirming the invasion of Cross River National Park by illegal miners, the Conservator of Park, CP Caroline Olori said the activities of the miners were carried out in collaboration with indigenes especially youths.

Olori maintained that indigenes who open up their communities to illegal merchant of solid minerals such as gold or timber logging have remained poorer and insecure, while few of the indigenes and foreigners live fat on their common wealth.

In her words, “We have arrested many young boys who we cannot trace their origin, they only tell you they are from one state or the other in the north and they all live in our forests.”

“Today, some youths of these communities fight the National Park for trying to ensure that their resources remain, if these communities don’t rise up, our forests will be totally depleted with high-level insecurity that may not be able to handle,” she reiterated.

However, Dr. Omoseye Omosabi, Federal Mines Officer for Cross River blamed the illegal mining in the Ifumkpa axis of the National Park on the National Park Service led by CP Caroline Olori in Cross River.

Miners with their implements and food head into the forest in Ifumkpa

Dr Omoseye Omosabi, Federal Mines Officer for Cross River blamed the illegal mining in the Ifumkpa axis of the National Park on the National Park Service led by Olori in Cross River.

According to him, two companies got licence to mine in Ifumkpa, they did their exploration and discovered gold, they went ahead and commenced community development projects one of which is the only surviving solar powered borehole in the community.

He said they also met with the community leaders, youths and other stakeholders in preparation to commence operation but shortly after, Olori said the area belongs to the park and asked the company to stop their activities.

Omosabi said he met the Olori to make her see the implication of stopping a legitimate company from mining in the area already but his efforts failed to yield fruits.

“The mining law says that irrespective of the Land Use Act, once a mineral is discovered in commercial quantity in a place, mining activities take preeminence over any other activities or use.”

“I told her that if we stop licenced companies from mining in Ifumkpa, we will not have anyone to hold responsible when illegal mining commences there.”

The road to the community is a terrible state, it will be difficult for you to make arrests in the community but all my advice fell on deaf ears.

“The illegal mining of gold in Ifumkpa is now growing and we can’t control it,” he said.

He said rangers from the National Park know the forest more than any other security agencies but unfortunately failed to secure the place.

While the accusations go back and forth, the ecological and social damage of the activities of illegal miners continue to rise. The consequence of this according to Mr Ahmed Abdullahi, Assistant Conservator General, (ACG) of National Park Services Nigeria is the insecurity they create.

“These illegal miners ensure that the unarmed members of these communities flee their communities for their lives and leave the place fallow for them to continue their illegality.”

“We are aware that a lot of miners have flooded the Cross River National Park, this is a very serious alarm, the state, local government, security agencies and all stakeholders have to rise and fight this menace.”

“If we don’t, gradually, they will become established because their sponsors have so much money and they will become a big problem for the community, Cross River and the nation as a whole,” he said.

NGX Equities Market opens week Negative as ASI sheds 0.53%

BONNY AMADI

The NGX Equities market opened the new week on Monday with a decline in performance measuring indices.

The trading session experienced a modest decline, with the All-Share Index (ASI) decreasing by 0.53 per cent to settle at 97,708.74 points. Investor sentiment leaned towards divestment, particularly in shares of SEPLAT (-10.00%), PZ (-9.91%), ETRANZACT (-9.68%), UNITYBANK (-8.20%), and NASCON (-7.50%), resulting in a slight moderation in the market capitalization of listed equities by 0.53% to N55.26 trillion.

This translated to a total reduction of N297 billion in investor wealth. Across sectors, the day's performance painted a predominantly bearish picture, with the Banking, Insurance, Consumer Goods, and Oil/Gas indexes contracting by 0.75%, 0.64%, 0.33%, and 5.90%, respectively.

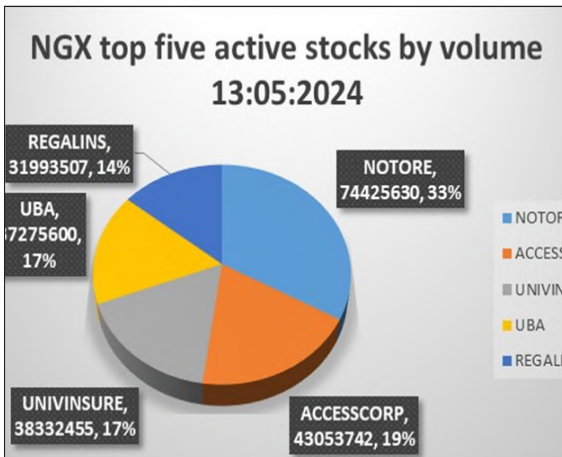

However, the Industrial Goods index remained unchanged.

Despite the higher number of losers (24) compared to gainers (19) on the Exchange, trading activity levels exhibited resilience. Total deals, volume, and value all witnessed notable increases of 1.29%, 27.51%, and 51.25%, respectively, totaling 8,607 trades, 439.10 million units, and N11.38 billion.

As the trading session drew to a close, NOTORE emerged as the most traded security in terms of volume and value, with 74.43 million units worth N4.65 billion transacted in a single trade.

Top five gainers TIP as the best gainer appreciated by N0.20 or 8.70 per cent to close at N2.50 per share, followed by TANTALIZER with N0.04 or 8.70 per cent growth, closing at N0.50 per share.

STERLINGNG gained N0.24 or 5.38 per cent to N4.70 per share, IKEIAHOTEL added N0.38 or 5.37 per cent to close at N7.45 per share, while UPL closed the top five gainers group at N2.25 per share following growth by N0.10 or 4.65 per cent.

Worst five losers SEPLAT as the worst loser for the day dipped by N329.10 or 10.00 per cent to close at N2962.30 per share, followed by PZ with N2.75 or 9.91 per cent loss in share price closing trade at N25.00 per share, while ETRANZACT closed third in the group at N5.60 per share, having dipped by N0.60 or 9.68 per cent. UNITYBANK lost N0.15 or 8.20 per cent to N1.68 per share, while NASCON closed the top five losers group at N37.00 per share, having declined by N3.00 or 7.50 per cent.

Top five volumes NOTORE led the day as the highest traded stock measured by volume with 74,425,630.00 million shares valued N4,651,601,875.00 billion, followed by ACCESSCORP with 43,053,742.00 million shares valued N749,944,003.40 million, while UNIVINSURE closed third in the group with turnover of 38,332,455.00 million shares worth N13,948,576.63 million.

UBA recorded 37,275,600.00 million turnover of shares worth N903,087,758.10 million, while REGALINS closed the top five most active stocks group with 31,993,507.00 million shares worth N10,275,985.27 million.

N355.96bn OMO, NTB debits squeeze liquidity as OVN expands 154bps to 28.6%

In line with expectations, the overnight (OVN) rate expanded by 154bps w/w to 28.6 per cent last week, due to debits for the week's NGN260.65 billion OMO auction and net NGN 95.31 billion NTB issuances amid no significant inflows.

As a result, the average system liquidity this week closed lower at a net long position of NGN401.26 billion which was against a net long position of NGN706.61 billion in the prior week.

In the new week, it is expected that the OVN is likely to rise further, as funding for the May 2024 FGN bond auction (NGN450.00 billion) pressures the system liquidity amid no expected inflows to support the system.

In the Treasury bills markets segment, activities in the T-bills secondary market ended the week on a bearish note following huge sell-offs of the 17DTM bill in the beginning of the week. Consequently, the average yield across all instruments advanced by 42bps to 21.7%.

Across the market segments, the average yield at the T-bills segment expanded by 19bps to 22.5% and increased by 128bps to 20.0% in the OMO segment. At the NTB primary auction, the CBN offered instruments worth NGN179.36 billion - NGN39.90 billion for the 91-day, NGN5.44 billion for the 182-day, and NGN134.02 billion for the 364-day bills.

The auction was massively contested as the total subscription settled at NGN914.05 billion (bid-to-offer: 5.1x). Eventually, the CBN allotted bills worth NGN274.67 billion - NGN16.59 billion for the 91D, NGN5.44 billion for the 182D and NGN252.64 billion for the 365D - at respective stop rates of 16.24% (unchanged), 17.00% (unchanged) and 20.70% (unchanged).

Likewise, the CBN offered participants instruments worth

NGN500.00 billion at its OMO auction this week. The total subscription at the auction settled at NGN286.65 billion (bid-to-offer: 0.6x), with the eventual allotment amounting to NGN260.65 billion - NGN20.50 billion for the 99-day, NGN1.00 billion for the 183-day and NGN239.15 billion for the 365-day - at respective stop rates of 18.99% (previous: 19.00%), 19.48% (previous: 19.50%), and 21.50% (previous: 21.13%).

Based on expectation of a dearth in liquidity levels in the new week, it is likely that a sell pressure will remain in the NTB secondary market as participants exit their holdings to meet their funding needs.

The Global Commodity Market saw an increase in crude oil prices experienced an increase, with the Brent crude rising by 1.21% to trade at $83.79 per barrel, and the West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude oil also increasing by 1.47% to trade at $79.41 per barrel on Monday.

Naira value drops to N1,480/USD @ official FX market

The Nigerian naira opened the new week on Monday with declines at both the official and parallel Foreign Exchange (FX) markets.

The Naira depreciated against the dollar by 0.80 per cent to close at N1,478.11 per dollar in the official market. In the parallel market, the Naira closed at N1,480 against the US dollar.

Money Market trends on Monday showed that the Nigerian Inter Bank Offered Rate (NIBOR) rose across the board for all maturity gauges tracked due to tightening liquidity conditions. Short-term benchmark rates such as the open repo rate (OPR) and overnight lending rate (OVN), advanced by 0.86 per cent and 0.99 per cent to reach 28.86 per cent and 29.61 per cent, respectively. NITTY traded lower for most tenor buckets. The average secondary market yield on Nigerian Treasury Bills cleared lower by 4-basis points, to close at 21.37%.

In the secondary market for FGN Bonds, on Monday, trading activity was slightly on the bearish side, as the average yield increased by a base point to 18.62%.

In the sovereign Eurobonds market, sell sentiment was evident across all segments of the yield curve, resulting in an increase in the average yield by 0.13% to 9.82%.

Okuama: Ending decades of conflict in Delta communities

A NEWS ANALYSIS BY IJEOMA POPOOLA, NEWS AGENCY OF NIGERIA (NAN)

March 14, 2024 remains a black Thursday in Delta and the entire Nigeria for the killing of 17 officers and men of the Nigerian Army in a Delta community, Okuama.

The personnel from the 181 Amphibious Battalion of the Nigerian Army were on a peace mission, following a communal clash between Okuama and its neighbour, Okoloba.

Okuama, an Urhobo community in Ughelli South Local Government Area of Delta, is in-between two Ijaw communities – Akugbena and Okoloba. All the three communities are known for fishing.

Okoloba and Akugbena are in Bomadi Local Government Area.

The murder of the gallant army officers and men brings to the fore the need to adequately address communal clashes in Nigeria and do more to promote order and peaceful co-existence, concerned citizens have observed.

Analysts are also of the opinion that unresolved communal conflicts are ticking time bombs.

They are worried that there are pockets of communal conflicts across the states, urging urgent attention of relevant authorities and other stakeholders to save situations.

A journalist, Mr Michael Umuagu, recalls that communal clashes between Ife and Modakeke in Osun State and Aguleri and Umuleri in Anambra State lingered and claimed many lives and property to the extent that they taught, in a hard way, a lesson that peace is the ultimate.

Lives, resources, relationships, time and energy wasted on the two conflicts can never be recovered.

"It is enough lesson for everyone," he urges.

He urges urgent actions to end Okuama and Okoloba clashes.

Concerned Ijaw citizens believe that the federal and Delta governments have not done enough to address the Okuama/Okoloba conflict.

The coordinator of the group, Chief Manager Seigha, who is worried that clashes between the communities have become too many, urges the governments to do more to resolve the conflict permanently.

He describes the killing of the military personnel as regrettable, stressing that governments should go the extra mile to tackle communal clashes adequately to avoid calamities.

"We need institutions of government that will engender peace. Government has a responsibility to resolve this matter.

"Telling people to go back and resolve their conflicts and find peace will not work.

"The people came to government in the first instance because there was no peace," he argues.

Seigha is optimistic that if government representatives visit the communities and find out for themselves the true situation, it will facilitate resolution of the conflict.

He also suggests that government can set up a truth and reconciliation committee to address the conflict.

"Government should be firm in identifying who truly owns any disputed land," he urges.

Seigha also appeals to Delta leaders to wade into the matter.

"This is not a war between Urhobo and Ijaw, Itsekiri and Ijaw, or Urhobo and Itsekiri. We are the same people. This fight should not be allowed to fester more than what we have at hand.

"Leaders who feel that silence is golden at this time should stop it. By remaining silent, we are creating more problems in our communities," he says.

He urges the leaders to insist on the right thing for all youths in the area irrespective of their ethnic groups.

"They should not fold their hands at this time. Elders should not support criminals," he notes.

He wants traditional rulers, elders and other members of Okuama and neighbouring communities in Delta to give adequate cooperation in the search for the killers of the military personnel.

"We want the government to do everything possible within the law to make sure that those people are brought to book," he says.

According to Seigha, the search for the killers should be an opportunity to mop up arms from criminals in the area.

"The military should be given an opportunity to search for and mop up arms held by criminals in the communities.

"The killing of the personnel has left innocent citizens in the area in fear. A lot of people are now in the forest, people cannot go to farms."

"Even those at home are afraid. Our prayer is that peace should come to the communities," he says.

For Chief Regent Youmor, former President of Ijaw Community in Lagos State, Okuama and Okoloba youths, along with all Nigerian youths, must listen to voice of reason and end all forms of violence.

"Youmor says it is high time youths dropped all forms of insecurity, insurgency and other crimes and joined hands to develop their communities.

Youmor, also the Chairman of Bomadi Community in Lagos State, says clashes between Okuama and Okoloba ought not to continue.

"The youths must be called to order. They must conduct themselves responsibly.

"Enough is enough. Our youths must listen to wise counsel. These attacks must stop. We are not animals, we are not killers," he says.

He believes that it is the responsibility of elders in the communities to properly guide their youths.

"We can't disown them. They are our children, but we must tell them the truth and regulate their conducts," he argues.

Youmor appeals to the military to observe due diligence while searching for the killers of its personnel.

"Let only those who committed the crime be brought to book. Let the innocent be spared," he advises.

The Okoloba Federated Community in Delta is convinced that establishment of an army barracks in Okuama will tackle communal clashes and killings in the area.

The Chairman of Okoloba Federated Community, Mr Clement Koki, strongly believes that it will promote peace.

"With the barracks, everyone will maintain order because everyone fears soldiers," he hopes.

According to Koki, one Mr Zipamone Pigha from Okoloba was, on March 9, kidnapped and murdered, and his lifeless body thrown into River Forcados.

He also regrets that one Mr Anthony Aboh, also from Okoloba, was kidnapped and murdered on March 11.

"We don't want bloodbaths again. We have lost enough people, including the finest military officers that were killed," he regrets.

Koki has sympathy for neighbouring communities who are being temporarily inconvenienced by security measures put in place by the military to forestall further crisis in the area.

He appeals to them to show understanding.

Koki claims that Okoloba Community has proprietary ownership of fishing lakes (Afoi Bolu, Oge Donou, Agbakoropei Donou, Okirimele Donou, Benmo Donou), farmlands, economic trees and territorial waters within its ancestral boundaries.

"The proprietary ownership and control have been peacefully established and maintained by Okoloba for ages through collection of annual rents/royalties from strangers/settlers from various places, who came to farm on those lands and/or fish in those lakes in line with customary practices.

According to him, Okoloba desires peaceful co-existence with its neighbours.

Analyst therefore, urge collective efforts to restore peace in Okuama and Okoloba communities as well as other communities engulfed in clashes across Nigeria.

They are convinced that peace and unity remain important for societal development.
